

MAPPING OUTPUT MANAGER : Spool Manager

MAPPING OUTPUT MANAGER

MAPPING OUTPUT MANAGER is a spool manager available on UNIX, Linux and Windows systems. MOM was developed in the same philosophy as the native spooler on system i platforms and delivers essential functions such as printer and print jobs management in "open" environments.

• Main product features for MOM

- Hold, cancel, release print jobs
- Transfer jobs from printer to printer
- Manual reprint from any given page
- Spool file print preview
- Action upon error detection
- Web user interface
- Support for printer bins
- Interfaces with databases
- Join and split files (Option not included in standard product offer)
- Fast and easy operating using the MAPPING Robot
- Exceptionally fast processing times
- Print file routing
- Log files available at any level

The screenshot shows a web browser window titled "MAPPING UNIX - Windows Internet Explorer" with the address bar showing "http://192.168.1.50:8002/". The page content is titled "JOBS / PRINTERS" and has two tabs: "Jobs" (selected) and "Printers".

Below the tabs, there are search filters for "Owner" (mapadmin), "Site" (), "Queue" (), "Spool File" (), and "Status" (). There is also a "Filter by date" checkbox and a "Filter" button.

The main content area displays a table of print jobs. The table has columns for "Queues", "Devices", "Title", "User", "Size", "Date", and "Shortcuts". The first job is highlighted in blue and has a status of "Hold".
